Hemerocallis

(DAYLILIES)

—are referred to as the “Flower With a Great Future” also “The Perennial Supreme”, and many other complimentary terms. all of which seem well deserved. It has been noted that perhaps no other flower will give such returns with as little all round expense, trouble and work.

The daylilies are versatile as to climate, type of soil, and conditions under which they will thrive, except that in too much shade they will be too spindly. In our experience it has been noted that under decent cultural practices the improvement in growth of the plants, number and size of blossoms will well repay you for the additional effort and expense.

There is sometimes the complaint that the price charged for some daylily plants (especially new introductions) seems a mighty whole lot for one measly plant; but, when consideration is given to the fact that once a person has a daylily plant growing it will continue to grow and bloom and multiply until “the end of time” —affording the opportunity of increasing and everlasting pleasure to the purchaser, his (or her) heirs and assigns henceforth and forevermore.

All orders amounting to five dollars or more will be sent post paid. Add fifty cents for postage on orders for less than five dollars.

PLEASE SEND CASH WITH ORDER.

Our only guarantee is that we aim to send good bulbs and plants, true to names as known to us. Upon receipt of goods, if for any reason you are not satisfied, please return the shipment and your money will be refunded.

DAYLILIES

EDISTO (Wolfe)—Ev, E-M, 30" Re. This attractive Daylily has been observed in our gardens here for several years and is generally known to our garden visitors as "GAWJUS." Registration under that name was refused by the Registrar due to a prior registration of a similar name.

The name "EDISTO" is for the beautiful Edisto River which attractively curves so silently and gracefully alongside the world famed Edisto Gardens in Orangeburg, South Carolina.

EDISTO has been blooming in our garden alongside many of the best known varieties, and, although it has never been called to the attention of or especially pointed out to any visitors, EDISTO has never failed to cause very favorable comment, such as "My, what is that 'Gawjus' one over there?" or "I must get a better look at that one it is simply 'GAWJUS'," and on and on, etc.

The flowers are borne on good sturdy scapes, about thirty inches high; starts booming early-midseason and repeats. The color is a rich old-gold self, with a bright reddish halo. It is a daybloomer and the foliage is evergreen here. The flowers are of good heavy texture and about five to six inches in diameter. Each floret has an individual stem from one inch to six inches long. The proliferations often bloom while still on the scape.

One of the most travelled Hemerocallis Society members once visited our gardens and upon spying "Edisto" (then known as "Gawjus") really raved about it; suggested that it should surely be registered and offered for sale. Upon my requesting a suggestion as to the introductory price, without hesitation the reply quickly came: "Most of the new introductions are offered at twenty-five dollars each, and if any of them are worth it, this one certainly should be." 20.00 each
